

Going back to school can be a little nerve wracking.

Slip these tiny notes into your Magic Post Box or your little one's lunchbox, to let them know their Fairy Friends are watching over them.

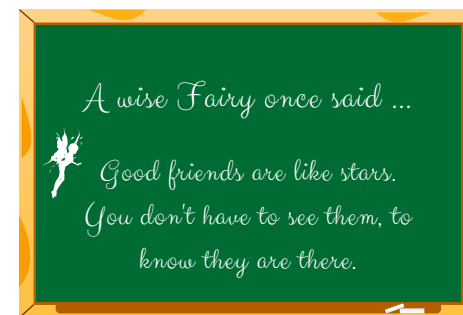

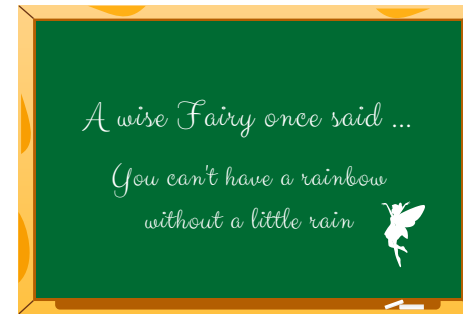

Knowing someone is loving them even when they are away from home will help them feel more confident to try new things and make new friends.

These Fairy letters encourage your little ones to give and receive praise.

And sometimes your little one could use some advice along the way.
Use these little notes to offer up some Fairy wisdom ...
